DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 1-48 are directed to storing a first and second logic in a memory in which a data comprises unique representation of a identification parameter to prevent identification parameter from being determined. Claim lacks a Useful, Concrete and Tangible Result. A useful, concrete and tangible result must be specifically recited in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

The term "substantially" in claims 1,2,5-7,10,14-15,18-20,22,26-27,30-32,35-38,41-43,45-48 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "substantially" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 2135

Claim 47 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Flink et al(US 7,024,562).

Claim 47: Flink disclose acquiring non-secure data requiring secure data to substantially contextualize none-secure data in (col.4,lines 47-53). Flink disclose generating a substantially unique representation of secure data being operative to substantially obscure secure data and substantially prevent secure data from being determined from substantially unique representation in (fig.4 and col.2,lines 52-60). Flink disclose transmitting non-secure data and substantially unique representation to second entity in (fig.3 and col.8,lines 37-38).
